

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to
air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of media consolidation.

To use our public
airwaves to
broadcast a piece
which is blatantly
partisan (and call
it news) is to abuse
the privilege they have. Bigger is not better or more
thoughtful or more
ethical--it's just bigger.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license
renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
